The Seasons' Colors

Colors tell a story about each season.

Let's see how nature's colors change in spring, summer, fall, and winter.

A close-up photograph of several young green plants with long, narrow leaves growing out of dark brown soil. The plants are in the foreground and background, with some in sharp focus and others blurred. A purple rounded rectangle is overlaid on the upper left portion of the image, containing text.

Spring

In spring, rain soaks into the ground.

The sun warms the air.

Then green shoots poke out of the soil.
